

Robotics @ Politecnico di Milano - open day 3rd December 2011

During the European Robotic Week, that will see several events dedicated to robotics throughout Europe, the Politecnico di Milano will open the laboratories working in Robotics to the public: media, researchers, industry, students, and families.

A common presentation of the Robotics activities at Politecnico di Milano will be given and lab tours will be organized: mobile robotics, artificial intelligence, medical robotics, rehabilitation robotics, industrial robotics, bio-inspired robotics, autonomous robotics and more.

For further info click on the title and here .