

Research Associate in the Medical Engineering Group Imperial College London - Department of Mechanical Engineering

The Medical Engineering Group wishes to appoint a Research Associate to conduct research into the trajectory planning and intra-operative control of a smart surgical catheter for endovascular intervention at Imperial College London.

The closing date is 21 December 2011